The Pricing of a Wedding Cake

When comparing vendors and prices, make sure you are comparing the size of the cake you are receiving. Vendors determine their own number of servings for a given size of cake. Our number of servings are very conservative for the given size of cake. Some vendors state a 10" round double layer cake will serve up to 39 serving while we consider it to serve only 32. Since you are paying for the number of servings, make sure you are receiving the same amount of cake between vendors and not basing the quote only on the number of servings. Standard servings are considered to be 4" tall by 1" thick by 2". Also ask to see if fillings and/or torting of each tier is included, priced separately can add $.25 to $.75/serving! Additionally, does the baker charge extra for different shapes, for us the shape does not determine the price.

Sample Cake Design Sizes	# of Serving	Total Price
